A Special Message to 2020 Taft College Graduates

Dear 2020 Taft College Graduates
and honored guests,

Welcome to the 2020 Taft College
Virtual Commencement Ceremony!

WE ARE INCREDIBLY PROUD OF YOU!

Taft College
Superintendent/
President
Dr. Debra S. Daniels

To those of you who have graduated this year, we are all together again virtually to safely
celebrate you and your many achievements.

The Taft College Board of Trustees and I are so proud of what you've accomplished. We are in awe of the wonderful men and women you've become along this educational journey, let alone during an unprecedented global pandemic.
2020 is a year none of us will ever forget.

You beat all the odds navigating this uncertainty and can do so again if you must. Please stay in touch to let us know what you do next and how we may support you in your future endeavors.
We sincerely thank you for choosing to attend
Taft College.

Congratulations! You did it!

Warm regards,

Deb Daniels

About Taft College Faculty Regalia

Academic dress has been associated with learning for centuries. Its origin is considered to be ecclesiastical, though the gown of the medieval scholar may have developed out of the ordinary civilian costume of an earlier period. The medieval scholar was often a monk who found the hood and gown a protection against the cold of his cell. He used the sleeves of his gown for carrying his books and supplies.

In the United States, three types of gowns and three types of hoods have been designed for the baccalaureate, masters, and doctorate, respectively. The square caps are the same, except that the doctoral hood may be made of velvet and have a tassel of gold.

The distinguishing characteristic of the gowns is the sleeve—pointed and hanging to the knee for the bachelor; closed (the arm comes through a slit at the elbow), square at the end, extending well below the knee for the masters; and full, round, open, bell-shaped and adorned with three bars of velvet for the doctoral.

The colors of the hood represent two things: the wearer’s alma mater and the department of learning. The lining of silk is the color or colors of the college or university granting the degree. The velvet trim is in the color that represents the department of learning in which the degree was obtained. The velvet trim of a doctoral gown may also be in the department color, or it may be black.

About Taft College Student Regalia

2020 Taft College graduates are wearing GreenWeaver commencement gowns made by Oak Hall. Each sustainable gown is composed of 23 plastic bottles from the world's landfills.

Graduates are wearing black matte finish cap and gowns with black and gold tassels portraying the year drop date "2020." Upon completion of the commencement ceremony, graduates move their tassels from the right to the left side of their caps.

Many students are wearing traditional Taft College gold satin stoles trimmed in black satin. The stoles are embroidered with the Taft College seal located on the left-hand side. In addition to the traditional ceremonial dress, some students are also recognized with specialized honor regalia as described below:

Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) was established nationally in 1918 and serves to recognize and encourage the achievement of two-year college students. The Taft College PTK Chapter members are recognized with blue and gold honors cords and/or gold stoles with "PTK" embroidered in blue.

National Society of Leadership and Success was established nationally in 1920. Students are invited by local chapter leaders typically based on GPA and/or leadership potential. Members are adorned with black and silver stoles embroidered with Sigma Alpha Pi and cords to match.

Associated Student Organization officers are identified by white stoles displaying the Taft College seal and title of office held. Officers are elected annually by the student body.

Student Athletes are wearing black satin stoles trimmed in gold satin displaying the Cougar Mascot embroidered on the right.

Extended Opportunity Program and Services (EOPS)/CalWORKS award their scholars gold medallions hung on black and gold ribbons that distinguish them for their scholastic achievements.

Career Technical Education (CTE) program graduates are wearing three-color variegated cords of orange, teal, and chartreuse. CTE provides students of all ages with the academic and technical skills, knowledge, and training necessary to succeed in future careers and become lifelong learners.

Administration of Justice and Criminal Justice graduates are recognized with blue and black cords.

Dental Hygiene graduates are wearing purple stoles embroidered in white and displaying the medical caduceus insignia.

English graduates are sporting pine white stoles embroidered with the TC logo and Cougar Mascot.

Early Care, Education, and Family Studies graduates are wearing light blue and gold braided cords.

Graduates who are Veterans are recognized with red, white, and blue braided cords in honor of their service and commitment to our country.
